

hard work and love for the music that make Banned from Earth an enjoyable experience not only for the crowds who come to see us but for us as well.

DLM: What's in the near future for BFE?
SC: We are working on putting together a mini tour with a couple of other tribute bands. Right now we are talking to a Deep Purple tribute band that actually jams with Ian Paice. We're looking at early spring or summer next year for that.

You can catch Banned from Earth on Nov 25th at "LIVE at Floyds" in Lincoln Park and on Dec 12 at "New York New York". Also, stop into LIVE at Floyds on Wednesdays where Stonecage hosts Acoustic open mic.

THE OLIN EZRA SHOW

Detroit's newest talk radio phenom is Olin Ezra. Heavily influenced by radio giants like Tom Lykis, Adam Corolla and Drew and Mike, Olin has exploded onto the Detroit scene. His show is a cantankerous mix of local music, politics, conspiracy theories and whatever else comes to mind while he's on the Air. Flanked on each side by some of the areas most interesting on air personalities Olin and his crew know how to grab and hold the attention of each listener. Every week from their studio in the Russell Industrial Complex Olin, Magnanonus, Dilan Tyler, Big Baby P and Danni Katastrophie intrigue and assault the sensibilities of listeners in the Motor city and all over the world via their online pod cast. So the next time you're online log onto www.theolinezrashow.com and get an earful of the future of Motor city talk radio.
